New State Health Standards Will Require Additional Manpower Here

New state health standards go into effect next April, and they will have an impact on the Princeton community.

Anticipating this impact, the Princeton Regional Health Commission asked Borough Council and Township Committee Tuesday night to release funds for an additional full-time employee — a "sanitarian" — for the joint Borough-Township health department.

Actually, Princeton's health department is already doing most of the things the state will require, but a skimpy staff has meant that some things are slighted.

Adequate housing inspection is essential — but impossible under present staffing, say Louise Bessire and Margaret Sprout, president and vice-president of the Health Commission.

The Borough has 4,391 rental units; the Township, 1,656. There are 3,143 rooming units in the two Princetons combined. This includes dormitories.

The state's Department of Community Affairs, charged with inspecting places where there are three or more units (including dormitories), is under-staffed, too, and there are places in town that haven't been inspected by the DCA for years. In fact, although Princeton Community Village is two years old, the DCA has never inspected there.

In Princeton, the local board of health is responsible for 736 one-and-two-family houses, apartments, flats and single rooms. Of these, 523 are in the Borough, 213 in the Township.

But in the first five months of this year, only 76 units were inspected throughout the whole community. In the first six months of last year, there were 214 inspections, so the pace seems to be slowing.

That figure of 214 inspections includes visits to PCV because, although the state is supposed to inspect there, Princeton itself is responsible for answering complaints. Several times, the sanitarian has visited PCV to investigate complaints of roaches and vermin; in fact, he has even brought about the eviction of tenants whose apartments were infested.

Under the Township's ordinance, inspections are made between tenants, and landlords are supposed to let the Board of Health know when this happens. In the Borough, inspection is every five years. Theoretically, this means more frequent Township inspections — provided landlords keep the Board of Health informed.

The differing schedules make it somewhat more difficult for the health staff to keep abreast. In addition, the Township requires septic-tank inspections — another time burden.

Housing inspectors use the State

Housing Code to test for cleanliness, structure, cracks in the walls, electric wiring, plumbing.

"You have to have lights and railings, and carpeting can't be loose," Mrs. Sprout explains, "in Princeton, we require hot water — not all places do. Minimum of heat, a minimal bathroom."

In the past, it was hard to discover cockroaches, but a new spray draws them, scurrying, from behind baseboards and the insides of cupboards.

If there are violations, the landlord is notified. There may be 30 days given to correct something difficult, like wiring, but if it's a bad toilet, it may have to be done immediately.

"Landlords will pretend to start work, then disappear," Mrs. Bessire comments, "then, if it gets to court, the inspector must go to court, and this takes a great deal of time."

"If it's known that we inspect regularly," Mrs. Bessire points out, "there would be no need for expensive, major renovations; landlords would keep up, from year to year."

"We must not let rental housing deteriorate!" Mrs. Sprout says emphatically, "it's fine to build new housing, but we can never build as cheaply as the old we now have. We must keep it up to par."

The "Cote de Nuits" (Coat-duh-nwee) is the northern part of the Cote d'Or, and at the gates of Dijon. It follows National Highway 74 (La Route des Grands Crus) and ends at the Comblanchien quarries. This small area includes nearly all the top-grade vintages of Burgundy and produces outstanding red wines such as: Chambertin, Musigny, Clos de Vougeot, Richebourg, La Tache, Echezeaux, Romanee-Conti, and Nuits-Saint-Georges. The outstanding place of interest in the "Cote de Nuits" is the famous Chateau du Clos de Vougeot, the seat and

Weatherman's Advice: Find A Shady Spot Hot Weather Will Continue for Several Days

"It is H-O-T," said weatherman David Ludlum, spelling it all out and wiping a few dew points from his eyebrow. "there is no warmer word."

Monday's high was 94, but it hit 95 over the weekend. Those are National Weather Service figures from Trenton. Mr. Ludlum, a kind man always, keeps his thermometer in the shade and all he got was a cool 92.

Dan Mazzerella, Mr. Ludlum's associate at Science Associates, is equally kind but has a different kind of back yard. His Magnolia Lane thermometer registered a high of 96.5.

There isn't the slightest hint of any change, so you might just as well join Mr. Ludlum's thermometer in the shade and take it easy.

Yes, it does seem to be true that a very cold winter is followed by a very hot summer, in case somebody told you that was just a folk tale. What happens is that pressure systems get stuck, and although they move eventually, they get stuck again and just don't move in their regular pattern. The "stuckness" occurs in summer as well as winter until the pressure systems begin once again to move in their regular patterns.

Remember the winter of 1935-36? It was followed by a July 10, 1936, when the temperature reached a record high for New Jersey: 110 degrees. The winter of 1917-18 had been a bitter one, too, and it was followed by a summer — 1918 — when a high of 106 was recorded in the state.

Another thing you hear a lot about is the "Burmuda High." Far from mythical, like the Bermuda Triangle, it occupies a stationary position out there in the Atlantic. It's there, year round, but in the summer, it often sends an arm over the land to Georgia and the Carolinas. This causes southwest winds — that's

Oh, How I Wish It Were Summer!

Oh, How I Wish It Were Winter!

Remember those bitter cold January days when the temperature fell to single digit numbers. Cars wouldn't start, furnaces worked overtime sending fuel bills through the roof and no amount of clothing could make those venturing outside feel comfortable.

Now it's six months later, and the temperature is close to three-digit numbers. Cars are overheating, air conditioners are working overtime sending electrical bills through the roof and no amount of clothing can make those venturing outside feel comfortable.

These two pictures were taken exactly six months apart at the Nassau Savings & Loan building on Nassau Street. In the accompanying story, weather expert David Ludlum explains why very hot summers usually follow very cold winters.

the real hot kind — to blow up north from the Mississippi Valley, Texas and northern Mexico, and they are H-O-T.

Cold air? Not the kind from your air-conditioner, bless its health and heart, but the real kind? It's stuck up in Canada. The front is around the St. Lawrence and Sault Ste. Marie and it's a weak front, Mr. Ludlum says, with no "push."

Whatever cool air we do eventually get, will come from Canada, flowing down through New England.

Incidentally, Mr. Ludlum doesn't like relative humidity. Well, neither do we, but that's not what he's saying. He prefers the dew point as a measure of moisture because it is "conservative," and applicable any time of day. Relative humidity is always high in the morning and drops in the afternoon. If you have a dew point that is 68 degrees or higher, you're uncomfortable, and we've had dew points in the low 70's. Dew point? Well, if you took 95-degree air and cooled it to 72 degrees, it would turn to water — that 72 degrees is the dew point, and Mr. Ludlum isn't any more comfortable with it than you are.

These are, by the way, the "dog days." Romans thought that the summertime conjunction of Sirius, the dog star, with the sun was what made summers hot.

The longest local record of heat is nine consecutive days. Mr. Ludlum, checking them off each day on his calendar, said on Tuesday that we'd had about seven, and are clearly approaching a record for duration.

Will he make a prediction?

"Yes," he said coolly, "I predict that this year, August will follow July."

Health Standards

Princeton has two sanitarians — Andy O'Hara and Leonard Williams — and the health officer, David Black. There are 1½ secretaries. The Health Commission wants two.

Food Inspections, Too. One reason these men are overburdened is that they must also make a great many food inspections: in the first six months of last year, they made 268. Restaurants must be kept alert, markets must have clean food display areas.

Another reason, is that the systems can take a full day or Township's percolation and more.

And there is the public.

Last week, there was a mouse bite. The mouse had to be killed and taken to state labs for tests.

Bats, this time of year, are worrisome. There is always the uneasy threat of rabies.

Always, there is some dear little old lady worried about a kitten in a tree. One householder asked the health board to guard her pond so dogs wouldn't eat her goldfish.

"...and Dave Blake is unfailingly kind and good to these people!" Mrs. Bessire smiles.

But the report commissioned by the Health Commission and just submitted by Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, says that too much time is wasted on animal complaints.

"It was a terrible mistake," Mrs. Bessire believes, "to drop the dog - control ordinance on the Health Department."

Health Education Needed. The state is also going to require more in the way of health education. Dr. Mattison feels strongly that Mr. Blake should not have any inspection duties, except possibly spot checks, so that he can be free to make these new plans.

The state's clout in the new standards, is its power to compel a municipality either to join with other towns or join a county - organized system, if it doesn't maintain the standards. If that should happen, the town would be compelled to surrender all its own health powers.

Another gobble of time is the vital statistic. Recording births, deaths, marriages, burials, requires a full-time person, in the Health Commission's view. As it is now, with only 1½ secretaries, the sanitarians and Mr. Blake must often type their own reports.

And there is more....

"We must be sure medical care is available for those who can't pay," Mrs. Bessire says. "We must prod other agencies in town, try to find out what Princeton needs."

Inspections and Increases

Has the Rent-Levelling Board ever given increases to landlords whose apartments don't meet inspection standards?

"All we know is what people tell us," explains Frederick Kenny, chairman of the Borough's Rent-levelling Board, "we have no investigating arm of our own."

"More communication between us and the Board of Health is certainly desirable, and we're discussing the problem. We might even require a report from the Board of Health before we make a final decision."

A well-baby clinic, for example, was closed by the Medical Center because the nurse in charge didn't have proper credentials and, according to Mrs. Bessire and Mrs. Sprout, there were no doctors interested in taking it over.

How can Princeton reach families whose children haven't had the shots they need, if these families aren't going to doctors? That's another problem.

What can be done about day-care centers? Out-of-date state laws say they can legally take no more than five children, so the Health Commission simply inspects them for cleanliness, sends the Visiting Nurse around monthly — and never tells the centers to get rid of surplus children. Centers have been asked, however, not to replace children who leave.

The cost of an additional sanitarian, for this year, would be $2,500 for the two months from October 1 to the end of the year. That money is already in the budget, in escrow. The annual salary would be $10,000.

DEER ARE PROBLEM

In Township. It's bad enough to swerve off the road and hit a fence - post to avoid hitting a deer that lopes casually away from your front bumper. But when you get home and discover your garden crop has been cropped right down to the last leaf by a chomping family of hungry deer, it can be just too much.

"We've had a lot of complaints about deer," is the understatement of Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini.

At last Wednesday's Township Committee meeting, members talked about the deer problem and recapitulated discussions held last May with state fish and game officials.

The Township has an ordinance prohibiting hunting. If the ordinance were suspended during the seven - day hunting season in December, it might help clear out excess deer. However, suspension of the ordinance might also bring loud cries from residents who urged it in the interests of safety.

Fish and game officials have suggested something called the Denville plan, used in that New Jersey community. Areas are designated by the municipality for legal hunting. Hunters register with police and are given an arm - band. The plan is said to be self - enforcing because hunters who see others without the arm - bands, report them to police. Under this plan, property - owners who don't want hunters can still post their property.

Mayor Josie Hall has estimated a deer population of thousands in the Township. It is the only animal against which a property - owner has no recourse. A pet dog, a wild dog, cats, raccoons — all can be reported to police. The deer has the whole domain.

The Township will meet in September with state officials to discuss the question again.

At its meeting this Wednesday, Committee is scheduled to introduce an ordinance raising salaries of Committee members. The proposal, from Committee member Elizabeth Hutter who goes off Committee January 1, would raise salaries from $1,000 a year to $3,000 and the mayor's from $3,000 to $5,000.

In its work session, Committee will review the revised Housing Assistance Plan of MOVING DAY: These two William Street houses, one of them a double house, will be moved, in a slow and stately progress, to the lot behind Green Hall. There they will sit in cold — or hot! — storage until foundations for the new "Nassau Court" are ready on William Street. Grant Green, Director of Real Estate for Princeton University said the houses should be settled in their permanent nests by early fall.

the block grant application, and will consider appointing an advisory committee of business and financial professionals to study the Office - Research zone.

Last Wednesday, Committee passed the ordinance allowing one - day permits for fund - raising Sunday cocktail parties. The license fee is $50, and it goes to the state.

Committee also agreed to a reduction of the Mercer Road speed limit from 50 to 45 m.p.h.

BENSON APARTMENTS?

In New Building Plans. Two floors of apartments, making a five-story building in place of the burned three-story structure, have been proposed by Lawrence Benson and John T. Henderson for the new "Benson Building," on Witherspoon and Spring.

But a lengthy path winds through the Borough's zoning ordinance before the first key can turn in a door. The project will be explained to the Borough Zoning Board next Thursday, July 28, at 8:15 p.m. in Borough Hall.

Mr. Benson has filed two applications. In the first, he asks special exception so that an arcade at basement and first-floor levels would not be counted as floor area. This would give him a three-story building "as of right" that is, the same size building that burned down.

In the second application, he is asking permission for two additional floors for apartments. In the Central Business District, a building completely devoted to commercial purposes can occupy all of its lot. But the addition of apartments moves the Benson structure to "joint occupancy" category, and requires a sheaf of bulk variances, involving setbacks and parking waivers.

The Zoning Board will also hear the request of Gallery 100, at 100 Nassau, to serve tea and cookies each afternoon from 2-4 at three tables seating 12 persons, in its upstairs gallery. Parking waivers are required.

HOUSING ADOPTED

With "No" from Gottlieb. The Planning Board, with one "no" vote, adopted last Thursday the housing statement that was the subject of public hearings during June. Golda Gottlieb, who had resigned from the board in disagreement with the statement and then was persuaded by the board to return, cast the only "no" vote. There were no abstentions.

In an amendment, the board struck out its definition of low-moderate income housing — it was HUD's definition — and agreed to work out a definition applying solely to Princeton. The housing sub-committee also decided to give more thought to the group sometimes described as high-moderate, characterized by teachers and members of the police forces.

Mrs. Gottlieb acceded to the request of board chairman Margen Penick that she remain as chairman of the PLANS ARE FORMULATED For Landmarks Commission.

Everybody on both governing bodies wants a Landmarks Ordinance, it was decided at a Joint Borough-Township meeting Tuesday night. (The Township, in fact, would like such an ordinance tomorrow.)

But since most of the landmarking would be done in the Borough, Council member Nelson van den Blink said cautiously that she wanted Council members to discuss the ordinance among themselves and then confer with Township Committee before a September introduction.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley also wants to be sure municipal attorney Gordon Griffin checks the ordinance out thoroughly.

As outlined by Constance Greiff, the ordinance would set up a Landmarks Commission whose members would designate individual buildings or neighborhoods as Historic Sites.

This Commission would review any plans for alteration, reconstruction or demolition at the time the owners applied for a building - or razing - permit. No exterior work would be given a permit unless the Commission said so. The group would not have an absolute veto on demolition, and could recommend that the governing bodies acquire a building through condemnation.

The Township is in a hurry, explained Mayor Josie Hall, because the final decision on a landmarks ordinance may affect what the Township says to Mercer County about the old Stony Brook bridge on Mercer Road.

Two questions occupied the joint meeting. Can an owner deliberately let an old building deteriorate until there's nothing left to do but tear it down? No. Mrs. Greiff said, but she acknowledged that this part of the ordinance needs some remodeling.

For some minutes, there was a brisk argument as to whether the Borough had deliberately let the old Borough Hall die. It eventually went to the Seminary, which tore it down. A parking lot now memorializes the spot (across Stockton from "Morven.")

Borough Neglect. Mrs. Greiff stoutly maintained that Borough neglect killed the old building, and former Council member William H. Walker in the audience agreed. Mayor Cawley said he'd heard - all this was before his time - that pipes and heating plant were so old there was no point in repair, but he hastily cut this discussion short.

The second question is - who has the final "say" on designating a building or neighborhood a "landmark"? Harry Sayen, Planning Board member, said that in Trenton, where there is a similar ordinance, it was felt very strongly that elected officials should make the original designation.

Mayor Cawley firmly agreed.

"Suppose a whole district, like Jugtown, were designated," he warned. "It might go against our whole zoning ordinance."

Turning the job over to Council would impose unnecessary burdens, it was suggested, and therefore the Commission, itself, should make the designation.

Linked to this is the question of appeal. If the Commission makes the designation, unhappy owners can appeal to Council, argued Councilman Martin P. Lombardo. But if Council makes the designation, the only recourse would be the expensive court route.

Does Landmark designation mean an owner can't do anything to the property? Mrs. Greiff and architect William Short emphasized that new construction work wouldn't be confined by law to a single style, that remodeling would only have to be compatible. It would depend, Mrs. Greiff said, on the kind of people who were on the Commission.

"Several hundred" sites are under consideration, Mrs. Greiff told the governing bodies. Council member Leona Medvin suggested that the ordinance make a sharp procedural distinction between historic "sites" and historic "districts".

Tongue-Tied

When the pavement Burns your toes, What you need is Good, strong prose.

Weathermen and newspapers alike were trotting out all the adjectives they could think of to describe the continuing pattern of hot (burning, fiery, torrid, roasting, boiling) weather that has kept temperatures in the mid to upper 90's for more than a week now.

And from all reports, there is no immediate relief in sight. Some day, hopefully before too long, cooler air may be able to push its way down from Canada, but don't hold your breath. Meanwhile, there is always that faint, (and it sure is faint) chance that an evening thundershower will cool things off temporarily.

dinance extending rent levelling to December 1, will be held next Wednesday, July 27, at 5 p.m. in Borough Hall.

"In terms of getting a parking garage built, we're in good shape, time-wise," the mayor reported.

He repeated his conviction and that of Borough Council, that whatever body is set up to run the garage should be an arm of Borough Government. Nobody seems to want an autonomous "authority."

Surveys by the E.A. Barton firm hired to assess parking demand, "confirm what we already knew," the mayor said. However, the firm is adding specifics to the generality. What everybody already knew, is that parking is tight.

At mid-day, the Barton people discovered, lots are 80 percent full. They regard 85 percent as the absolute top, the mayor said. At that level and higher, people are discouraged about ever finding an empty space. Some lots, chiefly in the Tulane-library area, were 100 percent filled at mid-day.

Although Mayor Cawley had originally hoped for a September 1 deadline on a parking decision, he conceded Tuesday that October 1 is more realistic. The Barton firm still has to do detailed studies of turn-over, parking meter receipts over the past six years, and so on.

HEYMAN TO NEW JOB

On Year's Leave. Ralph Heyman, whose job as assistant to the superintendent of Princeton's schools was wiped out by the board, will spend the coming academic year as administrative assistant to the superintendent of the public schools in Westport, Connecticut.

Mr. Heyman is on a one-year personal leave of absence from the Princeton system, and has already left Princeton. His new job starts August 1. He has signed a two-year contract with the Westport system, but the contract contains options allowing him to break the contract after one year if he wishes to return to Princeton. Mr. Heyman has tenure here as a teacher in Princeton High School.

RESIDENTS TO MEET

Regarding Stony Brook School. Neighbors of the old Stony Brook School Administration Building on Stockton Street, have been invited to the building this Monday at 8 p.m. to talk with members of the school board and with bidders about the future of the vacant building.

The school board would like very much to sell it. Four bidders have made offer.

housing sub-committee. That committee will sit down, after Labor Day, to fill in the generalities of the housing statement with specifics.

It will work in tandem with the board's land-use sub-committee, and Mrs. Penick said she plans to appoint a strong "housing" person to the land-use committee, and a strong "land-use" person to the housing committee. She hopes, in addition, that all Planning Board members will attend work sessions of both committees, whether or not they are formal members.

The housing committee must also define several terms. What is Princeton's "region"? Is it to be Mercer County, the HUD definition, or some other? What are "small units"? Does this mean number of bedrooms or size of apartment? What are "small houses" on "small lots"?

Mrs. Penick and the two committees expect that the two groups will each hold three meetings. They will then have a fourth meeting together.

After the housing group has fleshed out the goals statement and formed it into the actual housing "element" of the Master Plan, there will be a public hearing. Then ordinances will be drafted, and Princeton's two governing bodies will pass the zoning ordinances needed to implement the housing and land-use proposals.

The housing and land-use elements of the Master Plan are expected to be ordinanceed together. Mrs. Penick said she hopes the process can be completed in less than a year.

RENT HEARING AHEAD

Next Wednesday. Rent levelling and parking were on a light agenda in the Tuesday press conference held by Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley.

Topics of the Town

High bidder is Edward Farley's Atlas Corporation with $201,188. This is Atlas second bid and is $188 higher than the original one. Atlas still wants the building for its corporate headquarters. Corporation and school board were rebuffed last time by the Township Zoning Board. The school is in a residential zone. Other bidders are ROI Controls Corporation, now at 360 Nassau, with a bid of $130,001; Issam Taha, who has bid $60,000 with the idea of converting the building into a home or apartments and the Eden Institute, a school for exceptional children which has bid $51,500.

At Monday's night's meeting, representatives of these bidders will explain what they'd like to do with the 50-year old structure.

NEW SEWER CONTRACT

Action Next Tuesday. A new, amended sewer contract, omitting Hopewell Township, is on the agenda for action at next Tuesday's meeting of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority. The amended contract was discussed by the Authority this Monday, but no action taken.

If the Authority adopts the contract on Tuesday, it is hoped that municipalities will immediately start machinery for their own adoptions, with final action by governing bodies in September.

Hopewell Township will still remain a member of the Authority, only the state has the power to remove it—but there will be no contractual relationship for sewer service. If and when Hopewell wants sewer service, it will negotiate with the Authority as a customer.

TO NAME PHS COMMITTEE

For Renovation Study. Over 20 Princeton residents may be on the new BARC-Bond Referendum Advisory Committee—when it is finally constituted, perhaps next week. The group will be appointed by the school board to study the problem of renovating the high school.

Board Secretary William Evans said that he expects to submit the names to the board this week. Most of the people on Mr. Evans list are citizens who have volunteered to serve.

$3500 IN JEWELRY TAKEN

From Bayard Lane Home.

Six rings, including two diamond rings and two wedding rings, three necklaces, a bracelet, watch and assorted costume jewelry with a combined value of $3,500 were stolen last week from the bedroom of a Bayard Lane home.

Ptl. Gerald Patterson and Ptl. John Holcombe, who responded, discovered that a screen had been cut to enter the home. The victim was home during the theft. She told police that she had heard something but thought it was the cat.

A stereo system valued at $1,250 was stolen last week from the home of Edward T. McClelland, 190 Moore Street.

The victim told police that he had awakened at 5:30 in the morning and had heard a noise. Investigating, he discovered both doors leading to a driveway outside were open and a further check revealed the stereo missing.

Nothing else was disturbed. There were no signs of forced entry, police said.

House Is Ransacked. When Joseph Borg, 249 Ewing Street, returned home Saturday afternoon, he discovered that his house had been entered and completely ransacked.

He told police that items throughout the house had been moved about and that virtually every drawer and closet had been rifled. Police said, however, that it is still unknown what is missing.

They believe entry was gained through a kitchen window. Ptl. Renn Kaminski investigated.

More fortunate was Ben Barnum, 35 Linwood Circle.

He called police at 12:37 Thursday morning and told them he was watching television in his bedroom

WASHINGTON ROAD SPA: It isn't the shore, it isn't Community Park pool, but in the heat that has blistered Princeton and most of the country this week any body of water will do. when he thought he heard a noise and saw a light flash downstairs in the kitchen. In checking, he discovered a sliding glass door in the den that led to the kitchen was unlocked. Further investigation proved to be negative and police report they believe the intruder was frightened away.

Borough police report an attempt was made over the weekend to enter the office of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce at 44 Nassau Street. There were numerous pry marks found on the office door but no entry was gained, police said. Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt investigated.

VANDALS STRIKE AGAIN
At Hun School. There was more malicious damage this week at the Hun School where Henry Doyle reported that rocks were thrown through the windshields of two vans owned by the school and two side windows of a school bus were the cafeteria parking area off shattered. Edgerstoune. The vandalism The vehicles were parked in took place between 11:30

Saturday evening and 10 the next morning.

The Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill Road also got a going over by vandals.

Six 2 x 4-foot safety glass panes in a skylight were broken by rocks and two fire extinguishers were emptied in a lounge area, covering everything with fine dust. In addition, two metal lockers in a classroom were opened but nothing was taken.

Police said the vandals entered the church by way of an unlocked front door.

A 9 x 12 double glass Thermopane and a 24 x 30 storm window were broken by rocks thrown during the weekend at the home of Charles W. Fendrich Jr., 122 Gallup Road.

The rocks were later recovered inside the house. Ptl. James Vandermark investigated.

Police said the bells, with black handles, were on consignment from Carillon Hill, Inc. of Sellersville, Pa. and were discovered missing on Thursday.

Three wheels and other bicycle parts valued at $120 were stolen last week from an unlocked garage on Aiken Avenue, and a sneak thief grabbed a wallet containing $18 and credit cards from a woman's purse in a Linden Lane home.

The latter was reported at 9:51 Monday evening. Those inside the house at the time told police they never heard anything.

Moped Stolen. A Yellow moped with a white basket in the rear and only 88 miles on the odometer was stolen between 7:30 and 11:30 Thursday evening from the rear of the Rusty Scupper Restaurant on Alexander Street.

The victim, Michael Novak of 150 Spruce Street, an employee there, told police that he had secured the moped with an aircraft cable and lock to a fence post and had also locked the front fork.

The lock was apparently cut because police were unable to find it or the cable. Serial number of the stolen moped is 860-7602.

TWO CARS TOTALLED

On Route 206 Crash. Two cars were demolished after they collided Saturday morning on Route 206 between Arretton Road and Ewing Street.

According to Township police, Ariovistu P. Rogers, 33, 270 Cherry Hill Road, was going north on 206 when he crossed over into the south-bound lane and forced a car driven by James M. Cento, 27, of Somerville off the roadway and into the woods. The Rogers car continued on and ran into the woods on the other side of the road.

Mr. Cento refused medical treatment for leg contusions. Mr. Rogers complained of pain over his entire body and was treated at Princeton Medical Center. He was charged by Ptl. Robert Nielsen with reckless driving and failure to keep right.

Joseph A Dougherty, 58, 605 Kingston Terrace, was charged with drunken driving after his car left Prospect Avenue near Philip Drive and struck a mailbox and post in front of 407 Prospect. Mr. Dougherty told Ptl. Anthony Gaylord that he did not remember what happened.

After striking the mailbox, Mr. Dougherty's car continued on for another 66 feet and rammed a utility pole. He was treated at the Medical Center for lacerations of the face following the noon mishap.

A rear end collision at two in the morning Saturday at the intersection of 206 South and Elm Road led to a pair of traffic charges and an assault and battery summons.

A 1977 sedan operated by David K. Bennett, 21, of Trenton, was struck in the rear while waiting for the light by a car driven by Gary R. Beers, 23, 29 Craven Lane, Lawrenceville.

Mr. Beers was ticketed by Sgt. Thomas Michaud for drunken driving and careless driving. Sgt. Michaud reported seeing a fight in progress when he arrived.

According to police, Mr. Bennett allegedly punched Mr. Beers in the mouth and the latter signed an assault and battery summons against Mr. Bennett. Both cars were able to drive away.

Full Evening of Entertainment Provided By Summer Intime's Efforts in "Creation"

THERE'S SOMETHING INSIDE ME..... Margaret Emory, as Eve, isn't quite sure what is inside her as she awaits the world's first birth. Along with Adam, Cain, Abel and the other characters, she is in Arthur Miller's "The Creation of the World and Other Business," now at Summer Intime.

Most of the world has already been created by the time Arthur Miller lets us in on how it all began in "The Creation of the World and Other Business" - the second offering of Summer Intime which is now in midcourse on the stage of Murray Theatre. The "other business," however, provides a full evening's entertainment, as it shows us the arrival of the world's first woman, the world's first sin (in the Garden of Eden), the world's first natural childbirth, the world's first murder - all this accompanied by a running battle of words between God and his henchman Lucifer for dominion over mankind.

If Mr. Miller's play is a trifle overlong, he might claim justification in that every subject of discussion covers new ground, no precedents exist to help the disputants find quick answers. God and the Devil roam over virgin territory as they debate hegemony over the human race; Adam and Eve have no manuals to guide them while they argue over the contents of Eve's distended belly; even Cain and Abel -- though friction between brothers is natural when Mother favors one over the other -- lack prior experience to settle their disagreement whether to fence in the corn or the sheep. The destiny of mankind hangs in the balance as God and Lucifer argue it out. God (as Mr. Miller presents him) is a generally dignified but rather likable chap who admits he sometimes doesn't know why he does a thing.

Lucifer, the pragmatist, realizing that Adam and Eve in their innocence will never take the necessary steps to carry out God's injunction to "multiply," persuades Eve to taste the forbidden apple: one sin accomplished, the rest should be easy. God is not satisfied with his archangel's explanation that he broke the letter of God's law in order to further his divine purpose. Lucifer is banished to Hell.

Another crucial dispute leads up to the crime of Cain. God is displeased that Adam's family are paying less and less attention to him. A death in the family will serve to remind them of God's omnipotence. Lucifer, ever the peace-maker (he has argued consistently that good and evil can live happily together), does his best to head off the quarreling brothers, but in vain. With Abel dead and Cain condemned to wander disgraced over the earth, man's future looks so bleak that even Lucifer declines with thanks God's half-despairing suggestion that he rule the human race.

totensely Human. If I don't quite know what to make of all God and the Devil's dialectics, I have no such feelings about Adam and Eve and Cain and Abel. Their loves and hates, their amusements, and dilemmas, are intensely human.

And there is considerable humor in "The Creation of the World," especially in the early scenes in Eden. There is a delightful family scene later on in which the parents try to tell their sons what life was like in the Garden of Eden, and why (here the resemblance to a modern father's "facts of life" lecture to his son is irresistible) they had to leave.

There is also plenty of drama amid the talk — for example, Eve's frightening birth pains and the delivery of her first-born; the growing rivalry of Cain and Abel; a scene of incestuous madness that sweeps the family followed by God's thunderous intervention.

As directed by Larry Smith, this production of "The Creation of the World" is extremely impressive. Reversing the usual order of events, I must single out for special praise the lighting of the play. Among many good moments, the expulsion of Adam and Eve from the Garden and Lucifer's entrance into Hell stand out by virtue of superb lighting.

An imaginative set and strong contributory sound effects also appeal to the senses. Richard Warwinski, Mark Nelson and Robert Davidson are credited for lighting, setting, and sound respectively.

Playing the part of God, Carl Williams leavens the majesty of the throne-sitter with decidedly human traits (he even waltzes Eve off the stage after the birth of Cain). The character could easily be made bombastic, but this Mr. Williams does not do. Duncan Brine as Lucifer makes clear why the Devil has so many ardent followers: smoothly and ingratiatingly he peddles his moral contraband in opposition to the decrees of God.

Keith Moore is an attractive Adam, capturing nicely the progression from the enthusiastic youth whose greatest joy is naming God's creatures to the responsible and care-worn family man.

Margaret Emory is outstanding as Eve. In a role that must wring her emotionally, her performance is vibrantly true.

Clayton Platt as Cain and Mark Nelson as Abel give clear-cut, strong characterizations. Brief but picturesque appearances are made by Katherine Barry as Chemuel, angel of birth, and Katherine Stewart as Azrael, angel of death.

Though not one of Arthur Miller's best-known plays, "The Creation of the World and Other Business" has much to interest a theatre-lover. The Summer Intime production will continue on July 21, 22, 23 (matinee and evening), and 24.

TWO FROM ENGLAND

"If....," "O Lucky Man!": Two English films by director Lindsay Anderson will be shown this Thursday, July 21, through Sunday, July 24 in the air-conditioned Kresge Auditorium on the Princeton University campus. It's the fifth week of McCarter Theatre's "Summer Cinema 77."

The 1969 film "If...." has become a classic of the British cinema. Set in an English "public" (i.e. private) School, it is a film about campus revolutionaries made before the vogue became fashionable, and also a film about the insensitivity of institutions and the conflict between youth and the rigors of tradition. In the role of Mick Travis, "If...." introduced actor Malcolm McDowell, who was to achieve stardom two years later in "A Clockwork Orange."

Anderson's "O Lucky Man!" which will follow "If....," continues the saga of a now-older Mick Travis, portrayed again by McDowell. The 1973 film is an adult fairy tale about a young man pursuing success amid the follies of contemporary society. Anderson takes Mick on a Candide-like tour of modern Britain, a journey which combines allegory, the devices of a Brechtian morality play, and a three-ring circus. Woven through "O Lucky Man!" are savagely sarcastic songs, written and sung by Alan Price.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Street Theatre at 924-7452.

Meanwhile, Street Theatre will present the final two performances of "Harvey" this week-end. The comedy about Elwood P. ### ...AND SHAKESPEARE

At Washington Crossing. The verbal sparring of Beatrice and Benedick will once again bring sparkle to the evening air when Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" plays the stage of the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing, starting next Thursday, July 28. The comedy will play through July 30, with an 8:30 starting time and a rain date of Sunday, July 31.

The producers are Shakespeare '70, Inc., familiar to local audiences through productions in the Bucks County Playhouse, Trenton's Artists Showcase Theatre, and Washington Crossing. The Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission helps with the funding.

John F. Erath, professor of English at Trenton State, is directing, and Gerald E. Guarnieri is producer and designer. Diana M. Lunghi has designed the costumes, assisted by Janey Hauber, and Andrew Hornyak has composed original music. Pat Hornyak is stage manager.

The Beatrice in this production will be Collene Smith, whom audiences will remember from her appearances at the Bucks County Playhouse and the Lambertville Music Circus. Her Benedick is Carl Wallnau.

The other young lovers, Claudio and Hero, will be George Barlow and Jessica Krause. Tom Moffit will have the comic role of Constable Dogberry.

SHORT PLAYS PLANNED

By Trenton State Workshop. The Trenton State College Summer Theatre Workshop will present an evening of short plays at 8:15 on July 26 and 27 in the Studio Theatre of Kendall Hall. The performances are free and the public is welcome.

Included in the evening's bill are "Enchanted Night" by Polish playwright Slawemir Mrozek; "The Lady of Larkspur Lotion" by Tennessee Williams; "The Tridget of Greva," a little known farce by Ring Lardner; and A.A. Milne's spoof of fairy tales, "The Ugly Duckling."

Under the direction of Jack McCullough of the TSC Theatre Department, the Summer Theatre Workshop is composed of a wide variety of students including novices and veteran performers. The group handles all elements of the production from acting to building scenery, designing, lighting, and preparing costumes. Each member earns three course credits for participating.

SHOWS FOR CHILDREN

At Trenton State. The Trenton State College puppetry and Playmaking Workshop will present its very popular production combining puppet shows and creative drama on July 25 at 10:30, July 26 at 9:15 and 10:30, and on July 27 at 9:15 and 10:30 a.m. The shows will be staged in the lecture hall (Rm. 264) in Holman Hall.

Each performance will be in four segments, featuring hand puppets, rod puppets and marionettes constructed by graduate students in the workshop. The six-credit workshop, which has been offered every year since 1959, provides a complete course in puppetry with Dr. Henry Ahrens who has studied the art as well as performing with puppets widely in this area and in Europe.

Dr. Hilda S. Wagner, former professor and chairperson of the Speech Communication and Theatre Department, has team-taught the course with Ahrens since its inception. She offers the students an intensive course in creative drama, as they provide the scenarios for the production.

Ticket reservations are recommended, as the theatre seats only 130 persons. For reservations call 771-2652 Monday, July 18 through Thursday, July 21 from 9-3. Tickets must be picked up in room 407 Holman Hall at the same hours, and no tickets will be held after Thursday, July 21 at 3:00.

IT'S NEW To Us

SIX MONTHS LATER...

For Benson Building Businesses. The early morning hours of last January 21 witnessed the greatest fire in the history of Princeton's business district, leaving more than a dozen small businesses without a home.

Most had hopes of reopening as soon as possible, but obviously returning to Spring Street was out of the question. Finding suitable space proved to be a major obstacle and not all have been equally fortunate. Adlerman, Click & Co., realtors and insurers, moved within the week to 4-6 Hulfish Street, and Welcome Aboard quickly appeared on Nassau Street, moving back to their old neighborhood at 30 Witherspoon Street in April.

However, Crisp 'N Clear, offset printers, who will do any size job you bring them, spent five months searching for a new location. Now at 2 Nassau Street, 80 percent of their old customers have returned, but the wait was awful.

Princeton Gallery of Fine Art is still looking for appropriate space, "something sensible for an art gallery," said Arlene Snyder. In the meantime, they do have a second gallery in Yardley, Pa., but hope to switch all forces to Princeton by the end of the summer. Towards this end, they are opening a temporary office upstairs at 14½ Witherspoon Street, from which they can work with their corporate customers, 921-8123.

Just Hair has yet to relocate, although the owners can be found in Lawrenceville at Joel-Richards; and Hills Market and Colonial Restaurant apparently do not plan to reopen.

Considerably more fortunate was Helen Benedict of Eye For Art, who says, "It's funny, but business is very much as usual." Hers is the only business that remained on Spring Street, moving across the street and down one to number six.

New Location Is Better. Mrs. Benedict is most enthusiastic about her new location which is bright and airy. "I used to look across the street and think how much I'd like it there," she said, "but I never would have moved a whole shop."

There are other pluses too, such as all the new framing equipment including a glass cutter that does plate or picture glass without any adjustments. Nicest of all, however, was having those who lost things in the fire return as some of her first customers.

Setting up again did take two months, and, as nothing had been saved, during that time Mrs. Benedict located new material. All the old moldings were re-ordered, plus a few new ones, and a variety of new prints purchased.

Most spectacular is a limited edition (1500) volume of Le

Morte D'Arthur, lavishly illustrated by Aubrey Beardsley. It was his first major commission, and nearly every page was embellished with medieval figures and his detailed floral motif borders. Each has been matted and they cost from $15 to $60 depending upon the size.

Mrs. Benedict has always collected handsome magazine covers from the 19th century. One of these is "The Inland Printer," "a technical journal devoted to the art of printing," which had colored lithographs by J. Leyendecker and woodblock prints by Will Bradley, an artist who was obviously influenced by Beardsley, $25 to $65.

Favorite covers here are the colored lithographs from "Puck," a satirical humor magazine. The last bather leaving Mhattan Beach bedecked with bottles and garbage certainly indicates that pollution is not a new problem, $10.

"Harper's Weekly," of course, was one of the most popular magazines of this period and it was illustrated with black and white engravings, some by Winslow Homer, $5 to $125. There are others too, quite enchanting but by lesser known artists, depicting the life of that day, from ladies' Lawn Tennis at Prospect Park to the Princeton-Yale Football Match at the Berkeley Oval, $25 each.

Other prints here at Eye For Art concern New Jersey material and 19th century maps such as one laying out the farms and estates of New York City.

There are also World War I posters, linen mounted to protect the paper; three-inch cherry printing blocks of individual letters; and design blocks for hand-printing wallpapers or fabrics.

Located at 6 Spring Street, Eye For Art is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 until 5.

New Store, New Directloo. Unlike Mrs. Benedict, Van Blakeman of On Consignment has found his business quite different since the fire. Moving from an off-street basement location to a storefront on Chambers Street last February has changed the quality of his merchandise and his customers for the better. Neighborhood shoppers stop here too, and no longer are his customers mainly looking for garage-sale bargains.

Like most store owners, the Blakemans found their customers to be "terrific." "Thanks to them we could afford to open up again," said Mr. Blakeman. "Most all let us hold their money to get set up again. Now we've repaid most and will do anyone else."

into useful gifts, golf clubs, badminton rackets and even some sleds if your mind keeps wandering to cooler thoughts.

There is quite a bit of furniture including two very nice trundle beds with mattresses ($125 each,) a small white (clean) parsons table with a narrow drawer that would be a perfect small desk ($25,) and lots of baby equipment.

On consignment also has cameras, watches, cassette recorders, radios, TV's, air conditioners, paymasters and several manual portable typewriters, most of which are very reasonably priced from $10 up.

Some of our favorites were a wooden boot drying rack ($1.25,) a penny gum machine which is just what mother doesn't want but would be loved by everyone else ($55,) a clear lucite 8 x 10-inch picture frame with round brass feet ($10,) and an old lead horse-drawn carriage ($150.)

With the greater overhead of a Chambers Street store, On Consignment has raised its take to 45 percent of each sale. You can price your own merchandise or let the Blakemans do it. Prices are reduced each two weeks, payments are made after the 16th of each month, and after a specified length of time merchandise not sold must be removed or given to the store.

Located at 4 Chambers Street, On Consignment is open Monday through Saturday from 10 until 6, with Friday evening hours until 9. Call ahead, if you're bring in something large.

State to Give Help for Heating Costs

Eligible New Jersey households may receive help in paying extraordinary heating costs incurred this past winter with funds from the Special Crisis Intervention Program, Governor Brendan Byrne has announced.

A State Funding Plan was developed by the Department of Community Affairs at the Governor's request. At his direction, the full $5 million allocation to New Jersey under the federal Community Services Administration (CSA) grant will be used for the Special Crisis Intervention Program.

Governor Byrne, who made direct application to the CSA for the allocation, said the program is limited "to households that meet income and need eligibility requirements, with special priority to the elderly, whose heating energy supplier is a participating company."

Community Affairs Commissioner Patricia Q. Sheehan, whose department developed and will monitor the State Funding Plan, said that eligible households will be determined by the local Community Action Agency and a one-time payment will be made by the State Treasurer directly to the utility company or fuel dealer.

"The payment made on behalf of any household may not exceed the total of actual household energy-fuel costs incurred after October 1, and before May 5, or $250, whichever is less," Sheehan said.

The application may be made for either past-due accounts, or advance payments as directed by the Community Action Agency.

Applications, which must be certified before Aug. 31 to be eligible for aid, should go directly to the local Community Action Agency, which Governor Byrne has designated as certifying agencies for this program.

Each household may make application for this assistance to the Mercer County Community Action Agency.

Households who meet the CSA income guidelines are eligible for payment if they meet these need requirements:

1. Families whose unpaid utility-fuel bills are past due and who have been threatened with shut-off of services.
2. Families whose utility-fuel bills are current to May 5, 1977, but who have been subject to large emergency expenses near or after that date.

When you are interviewed all questions on the application must be answered. If the application is certified, then payment will be made directly to the energy-fuel supplier on behalf of your household.

If the energy-fuel service has been discontinued prior to the time of application, the supplier will agree to reconnect or otherwise continue service without a security deposit upon receipt of certification. You will be notified by mail whether the application has been certified.

The energy-fuel supplier will provide a deferred payment plan to repay any balance remaining after a payment from this program. Check your next bill to verify that payment has been made in full to your account.

A reconnection charge will be required only if it was company practice before May 5, 1977; you must pay this charge directly.

For further information, call the toll-free Senior Citizen hot line 800-792-8820 or Princeton Youth Center, 924-0996.

State representatives may contact you to insure that the program is operating as planned. These persons will have a letter identifying them; and cooperation in answering their questions would be appreciated by the Agency.

FUND DRIVE PLANNED

By Planned Parenthood. The Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area, Inc. Board of Trustees has voted unanimously to raise funds to assist Medicaid women who desire to terminate their pregnancies. Should the New Jersey law banning Medicaid funds for abortion go into effect in August, as most observers anticipate it will, Planned Parenthood will be able to be of service.

"We strongly believe that poor women should not be discriminated against in their decision to terminate their pregnancies," stated Mrs. William Stoltzfus, President of the Board. "When women have a Constitutional right to have an abortion if they desire, it is blatantly unjust that one group of women, for financial reasons alone, is not allowed to do so."

It has always been Planned Parenthood's credo that every child be a wanted child — a child that will be welcomed, as healthy as possible and be able to look forward to a decent life."

The money raised will not cover the cost of an abortion for any individual, but will be part of a loan to provide at least some assistance to women with limited resources. A public appeal is being made for contributions through the media, through selective mailings and through various organizations. People interested may contact Planned Parenthood, at 599-4881, or send a contribution to Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area, Inc. earmarked for the Emergency Fund.

CANAL IS SUBJECT

Of Rutgers Study. A $225,537 contract for a study of the Delaware and Raritan Canal has been awarded to the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering of the Rutgers College of Engineering.

The contract, awarded by the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), is for the conducting of hydrologic, hydraulic, water quality and operational program studies on the entire 60 miles of the watercourse.

The canal, operated by the DEP, is a source of raw water supply for 22 contractual municipal and private water purveyor customers and for industrial and irrigational use.

It draws about 70 million gallons a day from the Delaware River Basin although it is entitled by law to draw 100 million gallons per day.

Because of its overall condition the canal has limited hydraulic capacity, according to the DEP, and will require rehabilitation to insure dependable flow and to increase the capacity.

The two-year study will include surveys, evaluation of structures such as culvert and banks, investigation of the water flow under both flood and normal conditions, and evaluation of present and predicted water quality.

The Rutgers study is charged with developing evaluations and recommendations aimed at increasing the canal's capacity to meet an expected increase in demand.

Heading the study team is Dr. Marvin L. Granstrom, professor of civil and environmental engineering. Members are Dr. Robert C. Ahlert, professor of chemical and biochemical engineering;

Dr. Joel Wiesenfeld, chairman of the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering; Dr. Shaw L. Yu, associate professor of environmental engineering, and Dr. William Goldfarb, associate professor of environmental resources at Cook College.

CHANGES MADE

For ConRail Tickets. The Department of Transportation has announced that improved ticket arrangements for commuters and students will go into effect on New Jersey passenger railroads on August 1.

Monthly commutation tickets on all ConRail lines will be honored until noon of the first working day of the next month. This should reduce the long lines of ticket purchasers on the first day of the month. This new regulation also is effective for school tickets. This policy previously has been in effect on only the former Erie Lackawanna lines.

The Department also has announced that four new holidays will be added to the one-day excursion and Senior Citizen rates. The holidays are Lincoln's Birthday, Columbus Day, General Election Day and Veterans Day (November 11). These four holidays have been observed only on the former Erie Lackawanna.

Two ticketing changes will become effective on the former Reading line. A calendar monthly ticket will replace the current "running month" ticket. During the transition period, patrons holding tickets valid into August can buy tickets for the remaining August days based on a formula of 1-23 of the monthly cost multiplied by the number of days of commutation to be purchased. The same formula and adoption of a calendar schedule will apply to school tickets.

HOT AIR IN THE ATTIC WASTES AMERICA'S ENERGY AND COSTS YOU MONEY

During the summer months temperatures in the attic can reach as high as 150 degrees. Ceiling insulation at best is a deterrent to heat, not a barrier.

You CAN Recycle!

Borough residents, despondent over cancellation of municipal recycling, received a word of hope this week from the Borough engineer's office.

Recycling will continue each Wednesday as before. However, your newspapers and bottles will be picked up by Cecil Sinclair, a private collector who lives in Ewing Township, rather than by the garbage collector. And if Mr. Sinclair doesn't happen to get around to your neighborhood on a given Wednesday, what you put out will be picked up by the garbage truck next time it comes around.

This is a business for Mr. Sinclair and doesn't cost you or the Borough a penny.

Under the Borough's new contract with its garbage company, you can put out anything one man can lift: bundled brush and twigs, old tires, old furniture, even old hot-water-heaters. But no old washing machines or anything else that's square according to Borough Engineer George Olexa. It has to fit into the garbage truck. If the truck doesn't take it, you can always take it to the dump yourself.

The new policy means no more fall and spring Clean-up Weeks in the Borough.

SUSPECT ELUDES POLICE
In Cadillac Caper. A suspect who allegedly stole a Cadillac from a home on Constitution Drive and a guitar from another home escaped Friday evening after he crashed into a pine tree at 56 Edgerstoune.

He was described as in his 50s, tall, medium build, wearing a brim hat turned down in front and glasses.

According to Township police, the car was seen leaving the drive of Samuel D. Lenox Jr., 189 Constitution Drive by Ptl. Renn Kaminski who was responding to a burglar alarm at 174 Constitution.

The Cadillac sped across the lawn of the corner of Constitution Drive, turned left on Independence Drive where it passed Ptl. Kaminski going the other way and proceeded at 60 miles an hour north on 206 before turning onto Edgerstoune.

Police said that the suspect had apparently opened a window of a small study in the northwest corner of the home of William Adamson Jr., 174 Constitution, and stolen a guitar. A flashlight was found on the floor of the study.

The guitar was found by police in the back seat of another car parked in the Lenox driveway. Police believe that the suspect apparently tried to start this car, but failed and took the Cadillac instead.

Detectives Samuel Bianco, Norman Servis and Ptl. Kaminski are continuing the investigation.

HOAX CALL REPORTED
Concerning Pap Test. A woman from a neighboring community who uses the facilities of the Princeton Medical Center received a hoax call last week concerning a Pap test.

"I think women in the area should be aware of hoax calls such as this," commented Chief Michael Carnevale.

He reported that the woman received a call Thursday from a man identifying himself as a doctor. The woman, he noted, was due for a Pap test but since the regular doctor was not available he would take care of it. During the conversation, he asked the woman a number of personal questions, Chief Carnevale said.

A check with the Medical Center later revealed that no change had been made in the woman's appointment.

between 1 and 8:45 Saturday morning from the driveway of the owner, James E. Burke, 158 Springdale Road.

Police said that the keys were in the ignition and the car was unlocked.

A Graduate School student reported the theft of a $60 battery from his car while it was parked Thursday at the Princeton University Press lot off William Street, and Daniel Madden of Newark, listed the theft of a change holder containing $5 from his car while it was parked in the drive of 12 Battle Road where he is employed.

A tape deck was also torn loose but left behind. Mr. Madden told police that he had locked his car at 9:30 Friday night and discovered the entry the next morning. The car's interior had been ransacked.

The cars of three summer students at the Westminster Choir College were broken into over the weekend but police reported nothing was taken. They were parked in the school lot off Franklin Avenue.

An auto burglar alarm prevented the car of Dennis Juliano of Trenton from being looted.

It was parked in the rear lot of the Princeton Packet, 300 Witherspoon, where Mr. Juliano is an employee. Late last Tuesday evening, another employee told Mr. Juliano an alarm in his car was sounding, and a check revealed the front vent window had been smashed. Police believe the alarm caused the thief to flee.

Mrs. Muri told police she was having a cup of coffee when she noticed smoke coming from under the counter top near the dishwasher. When she found a dish cloth in flames, she called a friend who called police. Ptl. William Potts, Ptl. Peter Savalli and two firemen put out the fire. An area under the sink was charred.

The same day, Borough police requested aid from Hook & Ladder to put out an engine fire of a car parked in front of 370 Nassau Street. The car was owned by a Trenton resident.

EIGHT ARE FINED
For Speeding. Eight Princeton area residents were fined Monday by Judge Philip Carchman in Borough court for speeding.

They are Laura Houck, Deer Creek, Plainsboro, $15; Mary G. Tann, Windsor Castle, Cranbury, $17; Robert Weisbecker, State Road, $18; Sheila MacNeille, 131 Red Hill Road, $15; M.B. Roberts, 95 Wilson Road, $33; Clifton Lancaster, 52 William Street, $15 and Manford H. Saunders, 205 Loetscher Place, $17.

Jeffrey A. Smith, 38 Pardee Circle, paid $30 for speeding and $10 for no driver's license in possession. The latter charge also cost Paul Perone, 134 Jefferson Road, $20. Margaret Lelmi, Princeton Arms, Cranbury, was fined $15 for a red light violation, while Gregory Johnson, 56 Greenhouse Drive, pleaded not guilty to the same charge. Judge Charchman suspended his $10 fine but ordered him to pay $10 court costs.

School's annual giving campaign just concluded. This is a new record for annual giving at the school, and exceeds last year's record of $360,000 by $65,000.

The money was given by 3,126 Lawrenceville alumni, parents of students and friends of the School. It will be used for faculty salaries and the student financial aid program which supported 125 boys who received $400,000 in the 1976 - 1977 academic year. Some income from the School's endowment is also used for student financial aid. The Chairman of the alumni campaign was Seymour S. Preston III, executive vice-president of the Pennwalt Corporation of Philadelphia. The parents' campaign was headed by Mr. Thomas Loftus of Orange, N.J. and Mrs. Ira Magod of Yardley, Pa.

The largest gift received came from an anonymous member of the Class of 1952 who matched every dollar his classmates gave in their 25th reunion year. The Class gave $16,000 and the anonymous contributor gave a total of $25,000 to achieve a new alumni class giving record of $41,000.

RED CROSS HERE CITED

For Aid to Veterans. Superior professional and volunteer work by the Princeton Red Cross Chapter was recognized last week in a letter to Harris Barnett, Chapter Chairman, from Floyd S. Chadwick, Jr., Field Director for the Red Cross with the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Newark.

According to Mr. Chadwick's letter, "We find your Chapter has been one of our more active Chapters in providing assistance to Veterans and widows. The quality of work from your staff, including volunteers, has been excellent and well presented. Care has been used in completing the required Veterans Administration forms which indicates careful interviewing and counseling."

Service to Military Families and their dependents is an important and time-consuming function of the Chapter and one that is not well known to the public. Last year the Princeton Chapter, which is a partner agency with the United Community Fund, handled 83 veterans' cases which ranged from simple inquiries on behalf of veterans

CONSUMER BILL PUSHED
By Nickel Brigade. More than 500 residents of the Princeton-Somerville-Morristown area are "putting their money where their mouth is." As part of the Consumer Nickel Brigade, a nationwide citizen effort to convince Congress to enact the Agency for Consumer Protection.

Because the proposed Agency would cost the average taxpayer only five cents a year, residents are showing their willingness to pay for consumer protection by sending nickels to U.S. Rep. Millicent Fenwick.

The proposed Agency for Consumer Protection, according to its supporters, would cut through layers of bureaucracy in other agencies by presenting evidence, cross-examining witnesses, and making legal arguments which will force government agencies to be more efficient and responsive to the consumer viewpoint.

The consumer agency would be funded at $15 million per year, less than the Defense Department spends in one hour.

"Once people understand the nature of the Agency," said Helen Singer, a Princeton resident who is coordinating the "nickel campaign" in New Jersey's fifth Congressional District, "they like the idea. Consumers are angry that many giant corporations have easy access to federal agency rulemaking procedures while the consumer's voice is rarely heard."

Many large businesses oppose the consumer agency, charging that it represents an added layer of federal bureaucracy. Other businesses, however, support the Agency. Allen Bildner of New Jersey's King Super Markets serves as a co-chairperson of the National Coalition for the Consumer Protection Agency.

Ms. Singer and other coordinators of the drive are pleased with the response to the "nickel brigade." After three days of talking to shoppers at Palmer Square, Princeton Shopping Center, and other areas in the district, more than 540 citizens have sent nickels and letters of support to Rep. Fenwick.

The New Jersey "nickelers" are working in conjunction with the National Consumers League, the Consumers League of New Jersey, and other groups. Together the groups have targeted 78 Congressional districts in which the Representative is undecided on his - her vote on the consumer bill.

Rep. Fenwick says she favored the bill at one time but now views it as an unnecessary public expense.

Bike Path Hazardous.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Since the construction of the bicycle path on the Great Road, both residents of the area and motorists who habitually drive the road have counted the time and waited with apprehension until the first accident should occur. It has occurred. Whatever its cause, fortunately without serious injury, the concrete barriers bordering the bicycle path have now been proved to be a hazard.

It is not too late to review the judgement involved in building the path, nor to question a municipality's acceptance of an anonymous gift despite the residents' strenuous objections.

The question still should be asked whether Township Police or the Traffic Safety Committee were consulted as to the safety of the plan; whether the Fire Department was consulted as to the safety of its men and apparatus on an already narrow high-speed road, further narrowed by six feet and without a shoulder, or whether the Highway Department was consulted as to the ability of its snow removal crew and equipment to function safely and efficiently.

We understand that monies remain from the gift. We suggest that they be used to remove the serious hazard at the Great Road bicycle path. Surely Township Committee, the Recreation Department and the generous and well-intentioned donor will not want to wait for further proof of the potential danger.

Conference Help Appreciated

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Many members of the greater Princeton community helped in the planning and hosting of the New Jersey Women's Conference, held June 17, 18 and 19 at Princeton University and we are grateful to them. Near-final figures indicate that between 3,600 and 3,800 individuals participated in that historic meeting.

We owe a particular debt of gratitude to those organizations which contributed vans and drivers to assist senior citizens and the handicapped in moving about the campus. We thank the Morris Hall Health and Rehabilitation Center, the First National Bank of Princeton, Princeton University, and the Princeton Jaycees.

For emergency services, and for standing by on that hot Saturday, we thank the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Finally, we thank those volunteer registrars who served longer than planned, and those conference participants who pitched in to help with the registration process when we most needed help.

"KEITH", one of the paintings by Stanley Roseman, in an exhibit opening this Sunday at Western Electric on Carter Road, Hopewell Township.

ART In Princeton

CLOWN EXHIBIT SET
At Western Electric. An exhibition of paintings, drawings, and drypoint engravings entitled "Clowns, The Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus," by Stanley Roseman will open at the Gallery of Western Electric's Educational Center on Carter Road in Hopewell Township on Sunday, July 24.

"Clowns" reflects Roseman's belief that, "An artist must not lock himself away in his studio. He must go out and search out those whom he would like to paint and paint them in their natural surroundings." Roseman spent many months over the past four years living and traveling with the circus and in April NBC News aired a special report on the artist, painting and drawing at the circus.

"Clowns" was recently shown as part of Roseman's, "The Performing Arts in America" exhibition at the Lincoln Center Library and Museum of the Performing Arts. His work is included in the collections of: The Berkshire Museum; Museum of the City of New York; Library of Congress; Princeton University Collection and most recently the Leningrad Theatre Museum.

The exhibition will continue through September 5 and will be open to the public from 9 to 4 weekdays and 2 to 5 on Sundays.

MONUMENT'S STORY
At University Museum. The tangled bas-relief sculpture known as the Princeton Battle Monument is the subject of a summer display at the Princeton University Art Museum. The exhibit, devoted as well to other works by Frederick MacMonnies, who executed the sculpture, will be on view through September 18.

The exhibition, prepared by Robert Judson Clark of the University's art and archaeology department, tells the story of the Battle Monument through pictures, sketches and clay models, describing its creation and unfoldment over a period of some eleven years. The monument was dedicated - by President Warren G. Harding - in 1922.

The massive sculpture, which faces down Nassau Street, looking along the allee of trees that is the approach to Borough Hall, stands in front of Borough Hall but at right angles to it.

According to the Museum's display, MacMonnies originally thought of a Winged Victory on a pedestal. The Princeton Battle Monument Committee rejected that, and several designs of "Republic" figures, in one of which Republic was shown standing in the prow of a boat. Too much like the crossing of the Delaware, the Committee decided.

It was in 1912 that he conceived the idea that finally appealed to the committee. However, his conception of the supporting pylon was not to the group's liking, and in the end, he enlisted the help of the architect Thomas Hastings, and they developed, together, the classic background that now sets off the sculpture group.

The University Art Museum is open Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays from 2-4. It is closed Mondays.

Cadet Kortpeter, a student at Harvard University, is a 1975 graduate of Montgomery High School.

An Eagle Scout badge was presented to Brian Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Peterson of 338 Franklin Avenue, at the recent summer Court of Honor of Scout Troop 43, sponsored by the Nassau Presbyterian Church. Brian was a cub and scout in Omaha, Neb., before moving to Princeton three years ago.

His service project for the Eagle rank was done at the Princeton Wild Life Refuge for which he built and installed bird houses, cleaned the existing bird houses, and improved the drainage system. He and the scouts who assisted him spent more than 90 hours on the project.

At the same Court of Honor, Life Scout badges were presented to Leonard Kim and Peter Meggitt. Nick Hastings, Alan Little, and John Ball received First Class badges. New Second Class Scouts were David Schrayner and Michael Sheehan. Rob Gilpin obtained his Tenderfoot badge. New scouts recognized were Philippe

Joseph R. Patko, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patko of R.D. 4, has successfully completed nine weeks of basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Command. Seaman Recruit Patko graduated from Somerset County Vocational Technical High School in 1976. After a two week leave at home, he will return to the Great Lakes to attend school to qualify as Machinist Mate.

Sally Blodgett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Blodgett of 10 Lambert Drive, and Anne Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Russell of Applestone Farm in Ringoes, have been awarded varsity letters for their performance with the 1977 Princeton University women's lacrosse team. This makes the second letter for each.

Miss Blodgett ranked third in scoring with eight goals and five assists for a total of 13 points. Miss Russell was selected as co-captain for the 1978 lacrosse squad.

Sheila B. Goldstine of 4 Jeffrey Lane, Princeton Junction, was inducted into the honor society of University College, Rutgers' evening college for adults.

The University College honor society constitutes the Beta Zeta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda, a national honor society for students in continuing higher education. Students are eligible after they have completed 75 credits in academic subjects with a grade average of 1.8 or better.

Eric C. Whelan, 205 Clover Lane, has been named to the Dean's List of State University College at Oneonta, N.Y. for the spring semester of the 1976-77 school year. He will be a senior in the fall.

Charavel and Cliff Cota. Assistant Scoutmaster Albert Peterson was honored by Troop Committee Chairman, Dr. Benjamin Wright for his effective service to the troop during the three years that the Petersons have lived in Princeton. # Lt. Steiner Looks Back on 25-Year Career with Township Police

A LOOK BACKWARD: Looking more like an idle country road than the busy highway it is today, Route 206 flows past Township Hall and the newly constructed Township garage. This aerial photo, probably taken in 1953, the year after Lt. Richard V. Steiner joined the Township force, shows the lone Twp. patrol car parked on 206. The car on the lawn in front of Township Hall, and a vintage model it is, belongs to Chief Gus Eisenmann. Note the two-door underground garage for patrol cars. At the bottom, facing Witherspoon Street, is the old Township garage. Missing is the pool complex, the Township Hall parking lot — and where are all those cars on 206?

Why would anyone want to come, the Borough telephone talk to me, the man with the ever ready smile kept that turned on a red light atop repeating. "I'm low key; I'd Township Hall. "Whenever we like to stay that way." saw that light on, we knew we Lt. Richard V. Steiner, had a call."

about to end a 25-year career with the Township police, the force, however, Township would prefer to fade away to his home at 19 Marion Road. But his accomplishments system anymore. "I think that won't let him. light is still up there," he said.

When he joined the Township force in 1952, the 22-year old Steiner became badge No. 4 — "low man on the totem pole." Counting the then Chief Gus Eisenmann and Lt. James Campbell, the department numbered a half-dozen men. During Steiner's career it has grown more than four times as large.

Since 1961 when he became Lieutenant, Steiner has been in charge of administration and personnel, keeping track of logistics, supplies, records and budgets.

Although his career will end officially December 31, Steiner, has accumulated enough leave time to allow him to depart in October.

Before joining the police, he had attended Rutgers University for two years and had done outside work in landscaping and farming. Why the police? "One word — 'security,'" replied Steiner.

"I was looking for a job that would last a good number of years and damned if it didn't. I like people and this is a people-oriented job. I've enjoyed that aspect of it."

First Day Recalled. No doubt Lt. Steiner will remember his last day but he also remembers his first.

"I started in July ... had on a fresh uniform. All four tires on the only patrol car were bald. I got as far as Mount Lucas Road when I had a flat. There was no road service so I had to change it myself. I came in all wringing wet and tired and the chief wondered why.

"You might say I started off with a bang," he smiled.

In those days, patrolmen rode alone and answered all calls alone. Headquarters closed for the night at 9.

Steiner explained that in the early 50s when a police call came, the Borough telephone operator would throw a switch that turned on a red light atop Township Hall. "Whenever we saw that light on, we knew we

By the time Steiner joined the force, however, Township police had two-way radios and they didn't use the red light system anymore. "I think that light is still up there," he said.

Police pay was a lot less 25 years ago, too. In 1953 the starting salary was $3,000, and during the 50s increments climbed slowly. "I started for even less," Steiner recalled. "I took home less than $50 a week. You had to be a genius of sorts just to survive financially."

Named Juvenile Officer. In 1955, three years after he joined, Steiner was named juvenile officer, a post that had been established the previous year. "We got the bureau set up and running pretty well," recalled Steiner, who held the job a half-dozen years. "It was 'an as well as' job; I was busy, but it was fun."

He became sergeant in January, 1959. "I was sergeant, juvenile officer and shift commander all in one," said Steiner, who ever since has made a career of keeping several balls in the air at once.

While he was a freshman at Rutgers, he was a member of the varsity ROTC staff. That was to be the start of an active interest in guns and shooting that has continued to this day.

He was on the force two years when he organized the first PBA 130 Rifle Club, a club for boys and girls, 12 to 18, that taught basic rifle safety and marksmanship.

At first, his classes trained at the small range in the basement of Township Hall. They moved to the National Guard Armory range on River Road and from there, for 10 years, used the Citizens Rifle and Revolver Range on the Princeton-Hightstown Road.

The last few years, the club has practiced at the Princeton University ROTC range. In the intervening 23 years, Steiner estimates that he has taught well over 1,000 youngsters how to shoot.

Steiner, who reports there is a lot of interest in shooting, is himself a member of the Central Jersey Rifle and Pistol Club in Jackson Township and the Citizens Rifle and Revolver Club. He competes in both big bore (30-06 and .308) and small bore, .22 rim fire.

He not only shoots rifles, however, he makes them—and manufactures his own ammunition. He hand loads everything. Mainly, he buys components — barrels and actions — and shapes the stock. Or he can build a gun from scratch.

"The whole bit ... complete gunsmithing, really. It's a craft I've developed over the years." Today he makes custom target rifles for friends and customers.

"They have to be put together extremely well," he added. "The fussiest owner is the competition shooter." To make a .22 caliber target rifle, reported Steiner, as he displayed one of his creations, costs $350 up — mostly up.

Forms New Rifle League. This year, in addition to the PBA team, Steiner started the Jersey Shore Junior Rifle League comprised of shooters from schools in Wall Township, Neptune, Bradley Beach and Princeton. The first-year champion: Princeton, of course.

At the ROTC range every Friday night, he says that he is forever losing his good shooters, but new ones always keep coming up. "It never ends. The youngsters are really dedicated. It's been very successful and I've gotten a lot of satisfaction out of it."

Another hobby he brought with him to his police work was photography. As a court recognized photographer, he took pictures of crime scenes and accidents. After taking additional outside courses, he set up his own darkroom.

POLICE CAREER NEAR END: A career that began in 1952 will end this fall for Lt. Richard V. Steiner of Township Police.

Topics of the Town

Soon he was supplying Time-Life from its Princeton circuit, had acquired the Gulf account and was booked for weddings. He was also a frequent contributor to TOWN TOPICS.

"I always gave Topics a sharp print," he recalled. For many years he has not been active in the field, although he still takes occasional pictures for realtors.

For a time, Steiner worked closely with the police-sponsored Boy Scout Troup 77 which met in the old Italian American Sportsmen's Club. He went on all the outings, camp-overs, hikes -- "phew, I don't know how I did it all but it was fun."

Naturally, he taught scouts about firearms. One of the big community projects of the troop, he recalled, was to survey the entire township according to density to locate 25-mile zones. Although the troop is no longer in existence, Steiner described Bob Westover, its scoutmaster, as a dynamic person who kept the troop active while he was its leader.

Career Highlight. When asked to name a highlight of his career, Lt. Steiner mentioned receiving a police degree in administration in 1972 from Rider College. Said he: "It took six years of night school; I was a glutton for punishment."

"I really worked hard," he continued. As a result, Steiner maintained a high grade average and was selected for membership in Alpha Sigma Lambda, an honor society for night school students and one of the first police officers so honored. "I was very proud of that," he says.

He is also a certified (by the N.J. Police Training Commission) guest lecturer, having taken courses that qualify him to instruct police cadets at the Trenton Police Academy in firearms, firearms identification and ballistics. "I've enjoyed that challenge, too," he commented.

Like most career officers, Steiner has attended a number of police schools and seminars. Thumbing through an inch-thick folder, he rifled through the number of diplomas inside. A quick count revealed 26.

Would Do It Again. If he had to do it all over again, would he choose police work? "Even though I don't plan to do any more police work... if I had to do it all over again, I'd do it the same way. Sure."

He is not alone. Steiner pointed out that interest in becoming a police officer is as high as ever -- perhaps higher. "Almost every day someone comes and wants to know when we're going to have an exam for patrolman. Many of them are college graduates. We had," he noted, "52 applicants for the last vacancy we filled."

At 47, Steiner is still young. What are his plans for the future? He's not interested, he says, in any high powered position of any kind. I'll pursue the slow race for the long race." Low key again.

He revealed that he has received attractive offers -- all connected with law enforcement -- and all, he says, guaranteed to give him ulcers.

Instead, he plans to pursue his gun hobby in earnest and assist his father in farming. Victor Steiner was a farmer when he moved his family from Hazelton, Pa. to Princeton when Steiner was only four. He still farms today on the Pardee Farm on Cherry Valley Road which was recently donated as a Green Acres site.

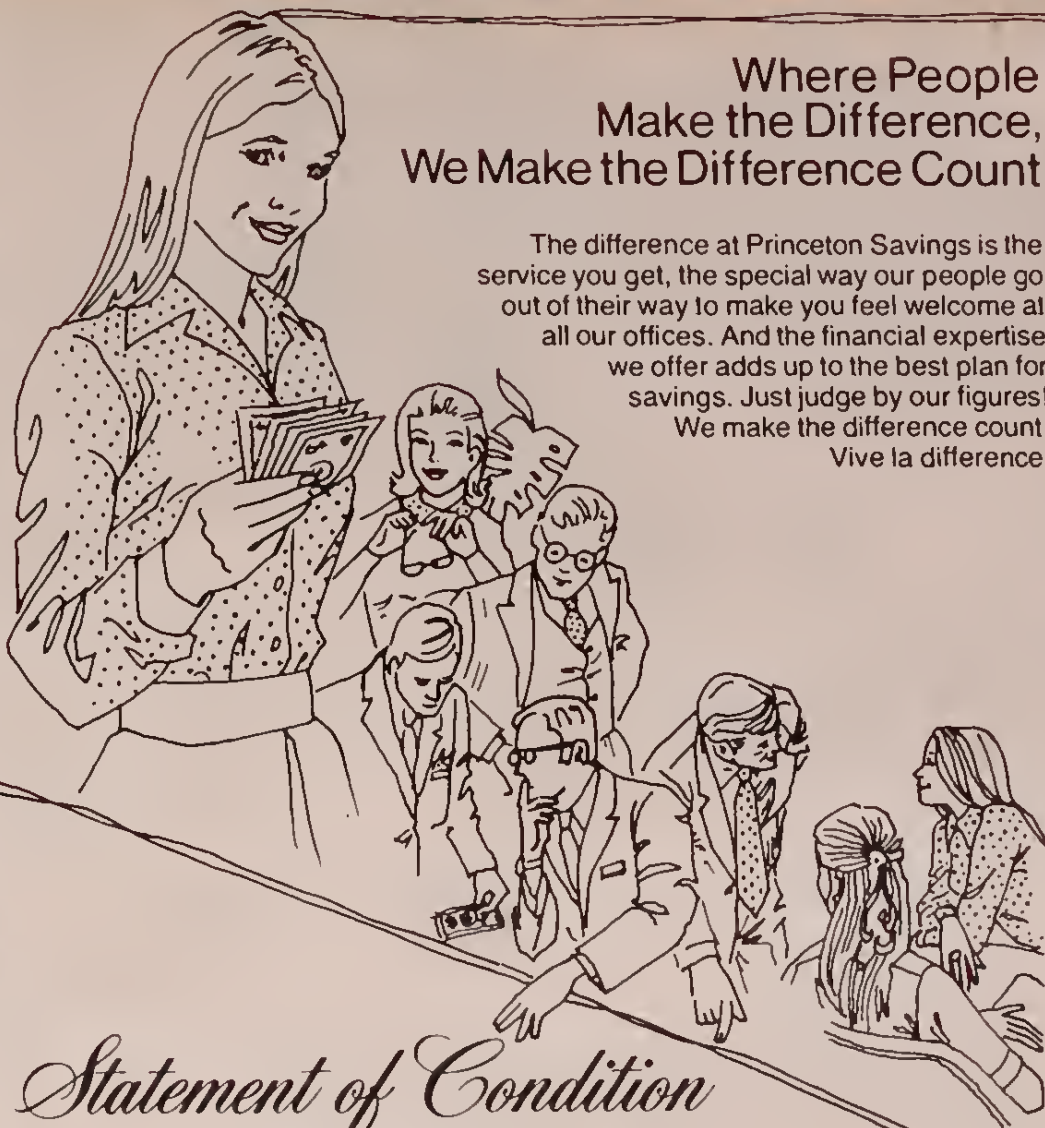

"He's low key too," said Lt. Steiner. "I'll help him in the summer and be a gunsmith in the winter." And maybe a little photography again on the side. "I still have that twin lens Rollei," he smiled, obviously enjoying the thought of being able to pick and choose what he wants to do.

"Whatever you say," he said at the end, "keep it low key."

Here's an oddity ... The pitcher who struck out more batters-per-inning than any pitcher in the history of pro baseball never got a chance to pitch in the majors! ... He was Steve Dalkowski, who spent 9 years in the minors between 1957 and 1965 ... In his minor league career, he averaged more than 12 strike outs in every game he pitched -- and no other pitcher in pro ball ever came close to that strike-out ratio ... But Dalkowski could never improve his control, so he never made the majors ... Thus Steve Dalkowski was the greatest professional baseball strike-out pitcher of all-time -- yet never earned big league fame.

Oddly enough, although the most famous tennis tournament in the world is the Wimbledon Tournament played every year in England, no player from England has been able to win the men's singles title in that tourney since Fred Perry did it in 1936 -- 41 years ago!

Can you guess which baseball player has played in the most major league All-Star games in history? ... 3 men are tied for this record ... Stan Musial, Hank Aaron and Willie Mays each played in 24 All-Star games, and no one else is close to that record.

KANDELL BATTING STAR
In 12-10 Legion Win. Princeton Post 76 right-fielder Al Kandell had himself quite a night at the plate Monday against Lawrence.

The Princeton High player, who will be back for the Little Tigers next year, batted 4-for-4, driving in seven runs in Princeton's 12-10 win -- its ninth of the season.

Kandell tripled home two runs in the first as Princeton grabbed a 4-0 lead, singled home runs in the second and third innings when Princeton scored two and three runs and sent two more across in the fifth as the victors built a 12-5 lead.

Lawrence rallied for five runs off Keith Phox in the sixth but it was not enough to overcome Princeton's big lead. Steve Hurlburt had three hits, Scott Thompson and Paul Soderman two each, Soderman also driving in a pair, and Keith Greener tripled during the 13-hit attack.

Two of Soderman's and Thompson's hits were doubles as Princeton continues its torrid, extra-base slugging.

POST 76 SCORES UPSET

As Hurlburt Fires 4-Hitter. Princeton Post 76 prevented Hopewell Post 339 from moving into a first-place tie last week in the Northern Division of the Mercer County American Legion League when it upset Hopewell, 3-1, behind Steve Hurlburt's four-hitter.

Unfortunately, Princeton sandwiched that win between two losses and saw its record dip to 8-13.

In its most recent start Saturday, Princeton trailed West Trenton, the northern division leaders, 6-2, after three but narrowed that to 6-5 after Dave Robinson singled home a pair in the fifth and Tom Ferguson doubled home another run in the sixth. But pitchers Todd Smith, who won his fifth against no losses, and Keven Munley were able to stop Princeton the rest of the way.

Robinson, Al Kandell, who also doubled, and Johnny Miller each had two hits for Princeton. Carl Nazarro (0-5) took the loss.

Against Hopewell, Princeton scored two runs in the second--all it needed--when LaPlaca tripled to deep center, chasing home Steve Miller who had singled to open the inning and John Hodge who got on as a result of a fielder's choice.

Princeton picked up another run in the third as Hodges singled home Tom Ferguson who had also singled and advanced on a fielder's choice. Robinson and Paul Soderman stroked doubles for Princeton.

Hopewell (13-7) scored its lone run in the first inning. Seth Waugh singled to lead off, stole second and came home two outs later on an infield error by Princeton.

Hurlburt raised his record to 3-1. Glen Van Fleet took the loss, his first against two wins.

Earlier in the week, Hopewell, behind its ace, Bruce Wood, blanked Princeton 9-0.

Wood allowed only one hit--a two-out single by Robinson in the third--and struck out 10 in winning his fifth against no losses. Hopewell combined a couple stolen bases, errors and Carl Braun's single to take a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning. Nazarro was charged with the loss.

TYLER NAMED COACH

Of Women's Swimming Team. Jane Barkman Tyler, coach of the University of Tennessee's women's swimming team and a gold medalist in the 1968 and 1972 Summer Olympics, has been named Head Coach of Women's Swimming as well as an Instructor in Physical Education at Princeton University. The announcement was made jointly by Royce N. Flippin, Jr., Director of Athletics, and Merrily Dean Baker, Director of Women's Programs.

Tyler was a member of the United States' gold medal winning 400-meter relay team in the 1968 Summer Olympics in Mexico City. She also won an individual bronze medal in the 200-meter freestyle event. In the 1972 Olympics in Munich, she again swam on a 400-meter relay team that captured the gold medal. She set an American record in the 100-yard freestyle (52.1 seconds) in 1968. That mark stood for four years. She also held the U.S. 100-meter freestyle record (59.5 seconds) for one year during 1967-68.

Tyler has been at the helm of the Tennessee women's team since 1974 and has won nine of fifteen dual meets in three seasons. In her first campaign, the Volunteers earned a second place in the Southeastern Conference Championships. This past year, her swimmers gained a fourth place finish in the Southeast Regionals. She has coached seven swimmers that have qualified for the Women's Nationals.

Tyler replaces Dave Garretson, who coached the women's swimming team to a 12-5 record in two seasons and an Ivy League title last year. Garretson resigned to enter law school in the fall.

WINNERS NAMED

In Springdale Mixed Events. The Springdale Golf Club has held three mixed events recently.

A 9-hole twilight tournament was won by Rita and Burt Edmunds with a net 29 on the front 9 and by Jean and Kemp Roll with 30 on the back nine. Jan and Bill Middlebrook took second place on the front with a 30 and Ruth and Don Shaw placed second on the back with 32.

Gross honors went to Bob and Sybil Hargraves with 40 on the front nine: David Shilliber and Amy Shilliber captured first place for the back with a one over par 37.

The July 4th Firecracker Tournament was won by Betty and Charlie Bardwell with a net 57. Second place, after a "putt-off" went to Bev and Harold Crane with third to Jean and Jack Petrone. Both had scores of 58.

Low gross was won by Betty Whelan and Ed Donovan with 72, followed by Nummie Warga and Jack Sweeney with 76.

A Pro-Am Twilight Tournament was held with Springdale's resident pros, Jim Hultgren and Peter Beames. Hultgren played one hole with each of the four-somes on the back nine while Beames did the same on the front nine.

Winners for the front nine were Dorothy and Dick Schoch with a net 26 followed by Peggy and Woody Skillman with 30. On the back nine, winners were George and Kate Conover with 26 followed by Paul and Mary Schafer with 31.

Low gross with 34 on the front went to the following: Shirley and Len Poser, Debbie and Kester Pierson, Ann Merrit and Ollie Houghton, Blanche and Bob McCarthy, Ruth and Bob Cronin and Claire Parsells and Glen Miller. Low gross on the back nine, also 34, went to Kate and George Conover.

NASSAU CLUB UNBEATEN

In Swim Competition. Winning 20 of 27 individual events, Nassau Swim Club last week defeated Trenton Country Club, 183-123, to remain unbeaten in league dual meet competition.

Double winners for Nassau were Paul Curschmann in both 12-and-under and 17-and-under boys diving; John Bolster (10-and-under boys individual medley and breaststroke); Sue Danielson (14-and-under girls back and freestyle); and Joel Harris (17-and-under boys freestyle and backstroke).

Among the individual winners were Shelley Chu, Marc Nystrom, Bridget Mahoney, Van van Horn, Alison Fraker, Libby Bolster, Li van Horn, Pierre Maman, John Healy, Val van Horn, Mary Bolster, and Barb van Horn.

Four freestyle relay victories were evidence of the team's depth. Victors in the 8-and-under girls were Sara Burkman, Shelley Chu, Kirsten Smith, Bridget Mahoney; in the 12-and-under girls, Libby Bolster, Li van Horn, Yuka Manabe, and Kate Burkman.

The 12-and-under boys first place finish went to Jeremy Wilson, Colin Mahoney, Pierre Maman, and Paul Curschmann, while the 17-and-under girls relay team set a Nassau Record of 1:53:31 in the 200 yard event with Val van Horn, Barb van Horn, Ann Healy, and Sue Danielson.

NO CHANGE IN LEAD

In Adult Softball. Conte's won two games last week in the Princeton Adult Softball League for a perfect 11-0 mark. It leads Division B by five games, while Center Sports owns a two game lead over C Square C. in Division A.

In a hard-fought battle, Conte's outslugged C Square C., 13-9. For the winners, Jerry Perputa and Mike Boonin each had three hits to lead the attack. Rich Jackson homered for C. Square C.

Ricchards was victim of an eight-run fourth inning by Conte's in a 12-6 set back. For Conte's, Wes Cawley collected two hits while scoring twice and batting in two runs.

In other action, the Vets defeated Mike's Tavern, 9-7, as Cap Crossland stroked three hits; Center Sports' Mario Di Vincenzi had three hits in a 10-0 win over P.M.C., and Jamie Brockardt's home run was the difference in Ricchards 12-11 win over Princeton Market.

ANOTHER LAUREL ADDED

By Nassau Swlm Club. Another crown, the off-age championships held last week at the 25-meter Flemington-Raritan Community Pool was captured by the Nassau Swim Club, the defending champion.

Nassau topped runner-up Valley Swim Club, 333-293. There were more than 1,000 entries in the three-day event which drew 21 teams from the Princeton Area Swimming and Diving Division.

Community Park Swim Team, Nassau's cross-town rival, fashioned its best showing in the off-age competition with 161 points. The off-age championships enable those swimming at the bottom of their regular age group to compete in a more favorable age bracket.

Nassau girls won seven first places: In the 15-and-under division, Barb van Horn swept the 100 individual medley and 50 back while Sue Danielson touched first in the 50 free and 50 fly.

In 13-and-under girls, Abby Harris captured both the 50 back and 50 breast, while 11-and-under Ann Wawczak took a gold in the 50 breast. Ten-year old John Bolster won handily for the 11-and-under boys in the 50 breaststroke.

In relay events, Nassau's 11-and-under girls won convincingly in the 100 medley relay (Susan Harris, Ann Wawczak, Sandy Danielson, Yuka Manabe) in 1:10.56 and also in the 100 free relay, as Harris, Wawczak, Danielson, and Alison Fraker combined for a time of 1:00.53.

The boys 13-and-under 200 medley relay team of Pierre Maman, Eric Breisacher, John Healy and Paul Curschmann withstood challenges by Lenape and Trenton County Club to place first in 2:29.93.

For Community Park, Sue Lofgren won the 9-and-under girls diving and placed third in the girls 13-and-under diving.

Individual double winners were Chip Hector (9-and-under boys 100 meter individual medley and 50 meter breaststroke) and Judy Wolfson (17-and-under girls individual medley and breaststroke). Brent

TENNIS MARATHON SET To Raise Money. Princeton juniors are planning a 24-hour marathon of round-the-clock tennis matches for July 28 and 29.

It is being held under the auspices of the Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton in cooperation with the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center.

The goal is to raise money for winter tennis scholarships and to start a fund to purchase a mini-bus to transport junior players to tournaments and exchange matches.

During the coming week, sponsors will be approached by players for support. The cost is 10 cents for each game the player completes. All contributions are tax-deductible.

Play is scheduled to begin at 5 next Thursday at the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center and move to the Princeton University courts during the daylight hours the next morning. Spectators are welcome.

All area juniors are invited to participate. Players should check with their instructors or the Tennis Office, 924-4343, to have their names placed on the list and to receive sponsor charts.

ROSS AND SEILER WIN In Women's Doubles. Robbie Ross and Olga Seiler won the women's doubles last week over Kathy Stanton and Alison Donahue, 6-3, 6-0.

Nancy Hatfield and Rosemary Flanagan, and Natalie Usiskin and Rosemary Lewis bowed to the finalists. The consolation round was won by Irene Daubert and Anne Peterson over Dede and Penny Webster.

Mixed doubles entries close Thursday promptly at noon with play starting on Saturday.

Once again there will be two flights - one open to married couples only. Entries should be left at the tennis office at 71 University Place and information is available from Mark and Merry Knowlton at 924-2795.

PARAGUAY IS LEADER In Davis Cup Competition. The Paraguay tennis team has the lead in the Princeton Community Tennis Program's Davis Cup League. Leading scorer for the team is Andy Cross who has 30 of Paraguay's 135 points.

Iceland is in second position, followed by Ireland. Appropriately representing Ireland is Mary Reilly who leads the team in scoring with 37 points.

Other high scorers in the League are John Zorzi of Algeria, Beth Brown of India, Michael Crystal of Austria and Pat Huckins of Bulgaria.

CLINIC SEPTEMBER 10

For Football Fans. Football coach Bob Casciola has announced that the Princeton University football squad will host its annual clinic on Saturday, September 10. Held each year for the past seven, it will take place at Palmer Stadium from 9:30 until 11:30.

The clinic is aimed primarily at youngsters from ages 8-14, and their parents and coaches. Last year nearly 400 attended.

As has been the case in each of the last two years, the clinic will be organized so that those attending will have the opportunity to learn more about the specific aspects of a certain position as well as gaining a better understanding of the game of football. During the morning all those attending will also have the chance to ask questions of the Tiger coaches and players, and participate in the drills that will be conducted.

Gifts will be distributed to those in attendance and a number of other prizes will be awarded.

LOWER PRICES OFFERED

For Some Football Games. Princeton University will offer reduced ticket prices on several occasions during the football season.

The games with Columbia on October 8 and Cornell on November 12 have been designated "Family Days" as well as "Youth Group Days". The October 15th contest with Colgate will be "Mercer County Day".

Under the Family Day Plan, maximum of seven family members, to include at least one adult, can purchase unreserved seat tickets which regularly sell for $3 or $3.50, for just $1 per person.

The Youth Group Day will also enable those attending under the plan to purchase the unreserved seat tickets for $1 per person. Groups of ten or more, to include at least one adult for every 10 youths, will be admitted for that charge.

The Mercer County Day offer allows all county residents to purchase regular $3 or $3.50 unreserved seat tickets for $2 by showing some form of identification.

The Youth Group Day tickets can be purchased in advance when the Princeton ticket office opens August 22.

VOLLEYBALL PLANNED

For Women in Fall. The fourth annual Princeton University International Volleyball Tournament for women will be held at Dillon Gym on Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15.

The tournament, under the direction of Princeton's head coach Susana Occhi, will feature ten teams coming from as far south as Alabama to as far north as Montreal. The ten schools are divided into two five-team pools from which the two top teams in each bracket advance from round-robin competition to the championship round.

In addition to the host school, five of the top teams from the eastern half of the United States will be on hand to compete with four collegiate teams from Canada. The American invitees include the tourney co-favorite, the University of Alabama, Duke University, the University of Maryland, the University of Delaware, and Salisbury State. Delaware has been the tourney's runner-up in two of its first three years while Salisbury State, the only other small college representative besides Princeton, won the inaugural tournament in 1974.

The leading Canadian squad and the other co-favorite is York College from Downsview, Ont. The other Canadian teams will be McGill University, McMaster University and Guelph University.

BUSINESS

In Princeton

VICTOR'S PIZZERIA OPENS
On Nassau Street. "Pizzas of all kinds. You name it, we make it," said Alfredo Rossi, one of two partners who last week opened Victor's Pizzeria at 86 Nassau Street.

Mr. Rossi said that Victor's will specialize in Neapolitan or thin - crust pizza. "That's real pizza; where it came from originally."

A single piece of plain pizza costs 50 cents. Of course, patrons can customize their pizza pie orders by selecting various add-ons such as sausage, mushrooms and so on.

Victor's Special Pizza ("The Works") sells for $4.85 for a medium, $5.60 for a large. A regular medium is $2.85 and a large $3.40. "Everything is made here fresh every day," Mr. Rossi emphasized.

In addition to pizza, Victor's offers a variety of Italian Steak Sandwiches and a selection of hot and cold subs. To drink, soda and coffee. "A little bit of everything," is the way Mr. Rossi put it.

Located in the former A&S Luncheonette, Victor's was completely refurbished by Mr. Rossi and his partner, Flavio Buono. Mr. Rossi, who has also been a builder since coming to the United States from Italy in 1961, reported that he and Mr. Buono did most of the work themselves in six weeks time. Both have been in the pizza business before.

Brightly - colored yellow tables with red seats line both sides of the pizzeria. There is seating for 40. The walls are paneled halfway up each side. Overhead are alternating orange and white spun glass chandeliers.

The rear portion, where the cooking is done, is dominated by a huge stainless steel pizza oven. There are two ovens, each one capable of holding six large or eight small pizzas.

Cooking time is five minutes, so there shouldn't be any waiting, Mr. Rossi commented.

Take out orders? Of course. And if the urge for a pizza strikes late at night Victor's will be ready. It is open seven days a week from 11 till 2 a.m.

Horizon Bancorp of Morristown, and Princeton Bank and Trust Company, a subsidiary of Horizon Bancorp, and Mid-Jersey National Bank, Woodbridge, have announced an agreement in principle, whereby Princeton Bank would acquire the assets and assume the liabilities of Mid-Jersey.

Princeton Bank, with total assets of approximately $145,000,000, operating eight offices in Mercer County, would acquire Mid-Jersey, and Mid-Jersey's four offices in Woodbridge, Middlesex County, would become branches of Princeton Bank staffed by Mid-Jersey personnel. Mid-Jersey, opened in 1970, has grown rapidly, reporting year-end 1976 assets exceeding $30,000,000.

In commenting on the announcement, the chief executive officers stated that the combined organization would be able to provide Mid-Jersey's customers with a broader array of banking services and greater lending ability.

HAS DOUBLED ITS PRODUCTION
IN EACH OF THE LAST FOUR YEARS
CAN YOU GUESS WHY?

WAS IT BECAUSE?

1. We work harder to sell every property that we list, and have the best record in town for doing so.
2. We spend extensively to sell your home, not just to promote our firm.
3. We have increased the size of our sales staff (every agent who ever joined Firestone is still working with us).
4. We have some of the best agents in the business who are persistent (not pushy), active (not aggressive) and above all sympathetic and understanding.

ANSWER: IF YOU PUT A CHECK MARK ON EACH OF THE ABOVE YOU HAVE GUESSED WHY WE DOUBLE IN SIZE EACH YEAR.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

King's Grant is particularly pleased to present one of Princeton's most distinguished properties; - a superb Georgian house on 43 acres of lawns, gardens and meadows in Princeton's handsomest area northwest of town.

Entering this great and gracious house, guests are greeted in the handsomely panelled entrance hall with black and white marble floor. The exquisite architectural detail is but an introduction to that found throughout the house, much of it imported from England. To the left is the morning room with a delicate marble mantel, deep wood cornice, pedimented door and a bow window looking out to the garden. The wide, graceful staircase with polished mahogany handrail ascends to the six family bedrooms and sitting room above.

In the English tradition of the private park there are brick and hedge enclosed gardens, a field planted in American holly, specimen shade trees, a stand of mature evergreens and a small meandering brook. In every season of the year these acres are a delight to the nature lover. Country living at its finest, yet exactly one mile from Nassau Street and the campus of Princeton University.

WEST WINDSOR

King's Grant is pleased to offer two lovely houses, advantageously priced, in convenient WEST WINDSOR. Schools, shopping and commuting couldn't be better from this fine WEST WINDSOR location. The houses are ranch style with three bedrooms and are priced in the $50's.

HOT STUFF...

INTO EVERYONE'S LIFE AT SOME TIME THERE NESTLES THE DREAM OF RAINBOW HILL! RAINBOW HILL, as the name implies, high on a ridge nobly viewing the surrounding valley. An eighteenth century New Jersey classic, restored to such perfection, that George Washington would feel at home should he return! Dating back to 1768, and later owned by Henry Reading in 1790, it has been passed on through the generations, often abused, but now really loved by the present owners who have painstakingly toiled to restore authenticity. Successful in their task, they now reluctantly leave for new challenges. But they are offering a warm, comfortable 12-room central hall colonial with wide floor boards, chairrails, wainscoting, and all else one would expect in the Federal house of this area. A few original features are open beams, brick floor, six working fireplaces, original Adam's mantels. Gracious living is enhanced by a fieldstone patio and lovely mature grounds. An attached stone wing is used as guest suite or in-law apartment. Of course, there is acreage (6) and a modern barn with five box stalls and water and electricity for total enjoyment and convenience. Please call for the particulars. This is an exceptional property.

WHEN LAWRENCEVILLE WAS MAIDENHEAD (c. 1750) Stately, gracious, comfortable. One of our area's outstanding landmarks. Stone and frame for durability, resting elegantly midst its gardens and trees. High ceilings, walk-in fireplaces, and colonial abound inside where a large and loving family can find everything imaginable for today's living. The details are too numerous to mention. But please call Florence Dawes for an appointment to see this exceptional offering. $265,000

EXTRAORDINARY...in an area of coveted houses, Westcott Road, Princeton Borough, we are proud to offer this exceptional blend of classic colonial with contemporary family living space! Perfect for the active, growing, interested - and interesting - family who like to cook, dine, work, play and be together! All the regular amenities one would expect, of course: five bedrooms, 3½ baths, living room with fireplace, dining room, sun porch, and the award-winning family kitchen wing that you really must see for yourself. Within walking distance of Palmer Square, the University and much more. $190,000
